

HEALTHCARE PROVIDER TEST UTILIZATION OPTIONS NORTH AMERICA

Option 1: CLINIC PAYS: Clinic Orders Test Kits from Lab and Pays When Specimen Received at Laboratory

- Clinic creates account with IML and receives special guaranteed pricing. Discount varies based on annual testing volume. IML will process payments with the authorized clinic credit card on file.
- Clinic will order individual tests from lab with patient information on approved clinic test requisition and IML will send the specimen collection kit directly to patient with a copy of the clinic test requisition. If clinic prefers, we will provide collection kits to clinic at no cost to distribute directly to patient.
- Clinic will collect the test fee directly from the patient
- IML will process the clinic's credit card for each test upon receipt of the specimen at the lab
- Clinic can have score sent to Practitioner Only or Practitioner and Patient via encrypted email
- Healthcare Provider should authorize Test Request Form with appropriate signature
- The prices below are applicable with this method of distribution and include shipping costs to patient:

Estimated kits per year	Percent Discount
Less than 100	10%
101-500	15%
501+	20%

* Chronic Inflammation Test Kit currently retails for $87.00 in USA ($129 CAD)

Option 2. PATIENT PAYS: Online Patient Ordering or Kit Distribution from Healthcare Provider

- When you select this option on your New Account Form, IML will assign your practice a unique promo code for your patients to use when ordering the test online
- Patient will receive their Chronic Inflammation Test Kit from Inflammatory Markers Laboratory with instructions for completing test and returning to IML.
- If your practice would prefer to distribute the test kits from your office, we will agree to provide test kits to you at no charge. The "Test Request Form" will include a payment portion for patient to enter their payment information or they may include a check for test amount.
